- 2) How does this passage define true power and leadership compared to how the world defines it?

- 3) Why is it often harder for us to receive service from others (and from God) than it is to give it? What does Peter's reaction reveal about human pride?

- 4) How does it change your perspective of this scene knowing that Jesus knelt before His betrayer? What does this look like in practice when we are called to serve people who have hurt us or who we know might oppose us?

- 5) What are some practical, everyday ways we can "wash the feet" of our family members, coworkers, or community members today?
